Trends to try for 2020

Give your friends and family bathroom envy with these cutting-edge trends...

Want to refresh your bathroom’s style but don’t know where to start?
From wonderful wet rooms to stunning spa styles, we’re here to help with our sneak peek of the bathroom trends set to take the world by storm in 2020 and beyond.

Bored of your bath? Dreaming of a sleek shower space? Wetrooms are all the rage, and it’s a trend that shows no signs of stopping. With super stylish tiles and some simple water sealing, you can upgrade your bathroom in no time.

Ready to add a touch of glamour to your bathroom? Beautiful brassware is tipped to be a top trend next year, so get ahead of the game with a little metallic magic.

Marble has always struck the perfect balance between luxurious elegance and natural relaxation – and right now, it’s more in vogue than ever. So, for a touch of class, add it to your bathroom today.

The freestanding bath is ramping up in popularity right now, so get ahead of the trend by giving your bathroom some sweeping standalone style today. From rectangular rims to contoured curves, let your bathroom breathe with a freestanding bath.

Contrast is king

Designing a bathroom with contrasting elements is back and bigger than ever in 2020. From gleaming and glossy bathtubs against a background of dark, rich tiles, to pearly-white sinks offset by matt black fixtures – the possibilities are endless, and beautiful!

How to measure your bathroom

Want to start building your dream bathroom? Then you need to know how big it is. All it takes is a rough drawing and a few measurements – no Da Vinci’s needed!

Step One
Sketch up your bathroom with a pencil and ruler.

Step Two
Note down where the doors, windows, and any odd angles or obstacles are.

Step Three
Measure walls, doors and windows with a tape measure.

Step Four
Jot down the height of your windows from top to ceiling and bottom to floor too.

Step Five
Size up any fixtures you’re keeping, along with their distance to the wall.

Step Six
Measure your ceiling height – choose a few places to make sure!

Great design doesn’t happen by chance. We work with experts all around the world to find the latest designs, products and technology. Because at Bathstore, bathrooms mean more.

Let’s get going…
We’re with you every step of the way – and that means starting off properly.
From a checklist of common questions to our online inspirations, you’ll find everything you need to kick off in style right here.

Bathroom planner checklist:
1. What’s your budget? Ideally, choose a high and low limit.
2. How big is your current bathroom? Keep those measurements somewhere safe!
3. Are you a bath or a shower person? Will you need both?
4. Who’s using the bathroom day to day? Do they have special requirements?
5. What’s your current plumbing like? Will it do the job for your new bathroom?
6. What sort of heating do you want? Think radiators, towel rails and even underfloor heating.
7. How much storage will you need? Hint – you’re always better off with more than less.
8. What finishings would you like? We’re talking lighting or wall and floor coverings.
9. When’s best for you? What’s the right time to start (and more importantly) finish the project?
10. Who will you choose to install your bathroom? Now’s a good time to start getting quotes and references!

Find your look

Infused Industrial

The pinnacle of simplicity in structure – Noir Frame furniture stays true to the Bauhaus principles of architecture and interior design for a beautifully bold style. Because of its neutral nature, Noir’s black framework offers a foreground focus that can work with almost any colour style – from warm woods to rich greens and beyond.

Want to maximise Noir’s natural versatility? Focus on flooring and wall effects with a glossy finish, lending a stylish sheen to reflect and enhance the finishes. Alternatively, spice up your colour’s strength and saturation to soften the matt black shade and create a more balanced bathroom effect.

Perfect for bold, modern spaces, Noir gives you the freedom to unite your bathroom space with monochromatic metals and warm wooden finishes, from taps to basins and shower heads. Yet within the one collection, you can choose from two distinctly different looks – Craft’s mid-century styles or Frame’s fierce architectural forms.

Palette Earth

A love-letter to soft, industrial spaces – Noir Craft furniture offsets strong black metal finishes with textured wood tones for added warmth. Contrast is king here, pairing the rustic earth tones of Craft’s caramel-walnut furniture with smooth Carrara marble.

Creating an airier space? Craft furniture’s neutral earth tone textures are the perfect way to lend some light to your space – especially when paring back your room’s overall colour palette.

Introducing Noir – the design of darkness. Inspired by classic interior designs and architecture, create dramatic bathroom themes with two stunning furniture styles alongside matt black brassware and fittings.
The Edwardian era ushered in a much more modern time with sleeker lines, detailing and elegant finishes that were typically enjoyed by the high society of the day. Classic, elegant and regal.

Savoy

A refined range to remember, Savoy’s carefully curated collection blends contemporary style with classic elegance. From stunning traditional sanitaryware to classical chandeliers, take your pick of luxury period pieces to transport your bathroom back in time to a gilded age. Discover beauty that’s built to last – with bath panels carved from solid timber, basins topped in black granite or marble, and matching mirrors. Personalise your space with a dark or light backdrop to enhance the overall effect. Grand, but timeless.

Savoy Victorian

One of our most traditional styles with a design that harks back to the grandeur of Victorian bathrooms. Ideal for period homes, it offers an opulence that will make you feel like you’re in a five-star luxury hotel every day.

Structural, bold and beautifully simple, the Noir Frame furniture range embodies the Bauhaus architectural and interior design principles.

The robust matt black aluminium frame includes a built-in towel rail and is precisely engineered to house the Veneto basin. Pair the frame with a feature bottle trap and tap, completing the stylish look. Adding warmth and contrast, the utility shelf on the vanity units is finished in a sumptuous African Oak, the same finish found on our stylish Frame shelving unit with adjustable shelf.

Stunning caramel-walnut tones, a beautiful mitre detail around the drawer frames and elegant lathe-turned legs, our Noir Craft furniture has a distinctive and appealing mid-century feel. Choose from matching wood or two stone-effect worktops to house wash bowls or opt for the bold lines of a full ceramic Veneto basin.

All furniture is supplied pre-assembled.

Baths

What does a brilliant bathtime mean to you?

Maybe it’s all about bathing your little ones, bath toys abound, happy splashing and making fun shapes with the bubbles.

Maybe it’s your chance to scrub away the day and feel like new.

Maybe it’s your own private sanctuary, for pure, blissful relaxation.

Or it could be all three.

Showering

Few things in life are as pleasurable as a long, hot shower. The pressure of the water running freely over your skin, massaging and washing away all the little stresses. Time to think, time to daydream, time that’s exclusively for you. What a joy! A real everyday luxury – your pick-me-up in the morning and your wind-down in the evening. There’s really nothing quite like it to help you feel your best – restored, refreshed and ready for anything.

Style guaranteed
All of our showers feature the finest materials combined with precision engineering. For example, all our valves are made from solid virgin brass and plated with layers of nickel and lustrous chrome or stainless steel, while extra large chambers let hot and cold water mix perfectly. We work closely with technology innovators to produce the best looking, most efficient shower heads and fittings available today.

Concealed valves
Giving you total control over your showering experience, while seamlessly blending into your decor.

WATER SAVING
Most of our showers only use a maximum of 12 litres per minute for a greener, but uncompromised, shower experience.

TOUCH SAFE
Some of our brassware and shower products are what we call ‘Touch Safe’ meaning that they will stay cold to the touch, even when in use. This protects those at risk of scalding while they are showering or bathing.

AIR DROP
Enjoy a bit of fizz in the morning? Airdrop enriches every single drop of water with pockets of air to create champagne-like fizzing. Thousands of tiny bubbles deliver an indulgent start to the day, and a truly unique shower experience.

TEMPERATURE SAFE
All our thermostatic valves are pre-set to a temperature of 38 degrees to avoid burns from very hot water. Many of our valves feature a safety override for those that like it hot and steamy.

CLEAN+
All our shower enclosures and bath screens are manufactured with Clean+ technology as standard, making water run off without leaving limescale residues.

Choosing your shower

There are many shower solutions to choose from, but understanding your water system is key for delivering your perfect shower. Thermostatic showers deliver a consistent showering temperature even when a tap is turned on elsewhere in your home. If you have a limited hot water supply, electric showers give you hot water on demand, whilst digital showers provide ultimate control.

Each of our product descriptions include the minimum water pressure required to give you the best shower experience possible.

The guide below indicates which shower solutions work with each water system.

What is water pressure?

Pressure is usually measured in bars. 1 bar is equivalent to 10 metres. Therefore, if the bottom of the cold water storage tank is 2 metres above the shower outlet, this would give approximately 0.2 bars of pressure – always have your fitter check your true pressure.

All our shower systems and valves are clearly identified with minimum pressure required, so you can choose in confidence.

For more information on which system will work best in your home, ask one of our in-store experts for advice.

The water system pressures we’ve used are a guide, we recommend you find out what your water pressure is to help refine your choice.

Whilst we can help guide you, your final choice remains personal and depends on what you value most and want from your new Bathstore shower.

On the following pages, you can discover more about the options available and the type of shower experience each will deliver.

Shower Systems & Kits

Shower systems give you the best of both worlds – fixed shower head drenching plus the accuracy of shower handsets. Shower kits include single or multi-function handsets.

- Thermostatic and non-thermostatic shower system options
- Non-thermostatic shower systems and shower kits need a complementary valve
- Single and multi-function options
- High and low pressure options
- Easy-clean silicone nozzles
- Solid quality engineering

Thermostatic Shower/Valves

Exposed and concealed shower controls offer sensational performance and a consistent showering temperature, even when a tap is on elsewhere in your home.

- Ultra-reliable thermostatic technology
- Concealed and exposed valve options
- Solid quality engineering
- High and low pressure compatible
- Various shower head options to match (from page 82)

Digital Showers

Our digital showers have versions to work with both high and low pressure, hot and cold water systems. They offer you ultimate temperature control and optional remote controls that allow you to start your shower and let it warm up without even going into the bathroom.

A warm-up mode means you step into the perfect shower every time.

Electric Showers

Electric showers are ideal where there is a limited supply of hot water.

They take water direct from the main cold water supply and won’t use up your stored hot water. It means you’ve always got hot water on demand, day and night.

- Thermostatic control
- Multi-function chrome shower head
- Clearscale™ limescale resistant technology, opti-Ro and sensi-Ro technology
- Colour options available

Do I need a pump?

Powerful, plentiful water flow is an essential part of any modern bathroom. Involving showers and deep warm baths can be sheer joy, but without adequate pressure and water flow they may not be possible.

In the UK water is usually supplied to houses through a water tank in the loft, these are referred to as low pressure vented gravity systems. They rely on the height of the cold water storage tank in the loft to provide the pressure and water flow in the home. Given the restrictions on the height of the tank, houses with this type of system can often suffer with low water pressure (often less than half a bar). The modern bathroom realistically needs about 1.5-3 bar of water pressure, which means that a lot of households in the UK will need a pump to make their water perform the way they want it to.

What is a bar of pressure?

Pressure is measured in bars (metric) and in feet (imperial). In simple terms, a foot of water pressure is the pressure created by having the cold water storage tank 1 foot vertically above the shower head outlet.

Is the pump noisy?

All pumps create some noise, be it from the motor within the pump, or the noise of the water being forced around the pump. Regenerative pumps work like a water wheel and are generally noisier than a centrifugal pump which uses centrifugal force to create the pressure.

Gravity-fed systems

Do you need a positive or negative head pump?

If there is more than 600mm from the bottom of your cold water storage to the highest point in the pipework or you have a flow rate of at least 4 litres per minute mixed water at the outlet(s) you wish to pump, you have a POSITIVE HEAD SYSTEM.

If there is less than 600mm from the bottom of your cold water storage to the highest point in the pipework or if you have an outlet in line with or above the cold water storage or you have less than 4 litres per minutes mixed water at the outlet(s) you wish to pump, you have a NEGATIVE HEAD SYSTEM.

Water temperature

It is essential that you have a thermostat installed on your hot water cylinder, and that this is set at no more than 65°C. Please remember that temperatures greater than this will over time damage your taps, shower valves and the pump. Any rubber or plastic components such as washers degenerate in such extreme temperatures, leading to premature failure.

Not withstanding these considerations, water in excess of 65°C could lead to severe scalding of small children or guests. Excessively hot water is a health and safety issue; heating and storing water above 65°C is also very inefficient, leading to much higher fuel bills and unwarranted pollution.

How can I tell what system I have?

Gravity-fed

If you live in an older property, there’s a good chance you have a gravity-fed system, known as low pressure systems, they are renowned for poor pressure and flow:

- A large cold water storage tank in the roof space/loft
- Hot water cylinder in an airing cupboard
- See the gravity-fed system diagram below

Combination Boilers

These are now quite common in the UK. Relying solely on mains pressure to deliver water around your home, combi boilers are compact and efficient:

- Wall hung boiler
- Hot water on demand
- No storage tank

Unvented Systems

Require a separate hot water cylinder to store a quantity of hot water at mains pressure. This cylinder will be metal and usually white. It has built-in insulation so won’t give off a lot of heat. You may also have a separate boiler to heat your water and supply your heating, but no cold water tank in the loft:

- Wall mounted boiler
- Modern metal-clad hot water storage
- No cold water tank

What do you want your pump to do?

What pump should I choose for a gravity-fed system?

Understanding mirrors, cabinets & lighting

Lighting should be an integral part of your bathroom. The choices you make can really make a difference to your overall look and feel. At Bathstore, we have lighting options for whatever look you’re going for, whether that’s boutique chandeliers or contemporary backlit LEDs. Have a think about what you are trying to achieve, sleek spot lights add definition whilst dimmer lights add ambience. Our range includes everything from task lights to fabulous show pieces. Understand what fits your space with our guide.

Safety in your bathroom lighting IP zone guide

All bathroom electrical fittings are rated against zones where they are safe to be installed. Use the diagram below as a guide to where you can install each electrical fitting.

Zone 0
The interior of the bath or shower, which can hold water.

Zone 1
The area directly above Zone 0, limited vertically to 1.25m above the bottom of the bath or shower. Also 1.2m horizontally from the centre of a shower outlet to the height of the outlet or 2.25m – whichever is the higher.

Zone 2
The area beyond Zones 0 and 1, 0.6m horizontally and up to 2.25m vertically. Zone 2 also includes any recessed window with a sill next to the bath.

Outside zone 2
Because it’s further from the moisture source in the bathroom, you are able to use non-IP rated light fittings here.

Save energy
Our LED lights use between 50% and 90% less energy than conventional halogen lights and last up to 50,000 hours. Being brighter, smaller and less expensive, they’re the perfect lighting solution.

For more energy-efficient LED solutions, look for this icon.

LED Mirrors
LED lighting helps to cast a pure white light that will flatter from all angles. Many of our mirrors have LED lights cleverly incorporated for a cutting edge look whether they’re on or off. We even have mirrors with demisters that stay clear when things get steamy.

Cabinet lighting
Our LED lights use between 50% and 90% less energy than conventional halogen lights and last up to 50,000 hours. Being brighter, smaller and less expensive, they’re the perfect lighting solution.

Wall lighting
These stunning art deco designs wouldn’t look out of place in a five-star hotel. But these lights aren’t just about style. The wall lights are also splash proof, moisture resistant and give off a bright yet flattering light, ideal for applying make-up and shaving.

Ceiling lighting
Astrid
Astrid spotlights, in single or a cluster of three lamp options, are energy-efficient and versatile. The direction of each of these spotlights can be adjusted individually, giving you the maximum level of control over your bathroom lighting.

Which tiles should I choose?

There are so many beautiful tiles to choose from but which are right for you? Perhaps the most important decision is the tile material. We have a great range of porcelain and ceramic tiles to choose from. Then, it’s a question of style!

Do you want a neutral minimalist finish, strong colour, a distinctive repeating pattern or the unique variation of a marble effect tile? The choice is yours.

Great design doesn’t happen by chance.

We work with experts all around the world to find the latest designs, products and technology. Because at Bathstore, bathrooms mean more.

See in-store for our full range of tiles and flooring.
SplashPanels are a practical and beautiful solution for any bathroom. Our range is manufactured from either hard-wearing, durable high-pressure laminate over an MDF core or versatile acrylic. A wonderfully cost-effective way of covering large areas of wall in a wet and humid environment.
